

Rev. Chris T. Jordan is a 1996 graduate of James A. Shanks High School, a veteran of the United States Military, and currently serves as the Electric Utility Engineering/Operations Manager for the City of Tallahassee. In this role, he oversees the security, operational integrity, and regulatory compliance of critical infrastructure within the electric and gas utilities.

He is the son of Mr. Theodis and Mrs. Diane Jordan, the devoted older brother to his sister Erica Jordan, and the proud uncle of his nephew Reshaude Davis Jr. Rev. Jordan cherishes his role as a father to three amazing children—Chris Jikel Jordan, Precious Jordan, and Jazmine Jordan—and as a grandfather to Chris “CJ” Jordan. For 13 years, he has been blessed to share his life with his wife, Linda Jordan.

Rev. Jordan has been faithfully preaching and teaching God's word since delivering his trial sermon on November 24, 2013. On November 28, 2017, Rev. Jordan was blessed to serve as the supply pastor at McChapel AME Church in Marianna, Florida. This appointment was made by Bishop Adam Jefferson Richardson, Jr., the 115th elected and consecrated bishop in the African Methodist Episcopal Church, at the 153rd session of the Florida Annual Conference.

At the close of the 159th session of the Florida Annual Conference, Bishop Marvin Clyde Zanders II, the 140th elected and consecrated bishop in the African Methodist Episcopal Church, appointed Rev. Jordan to New Bethel AME Church in Port St. Joe, Florida—"The Church Where Hope Meets Healing."
